E. B. Davidson is a seasoned engineer with a long history of making things work.

She brings her experiences to life in a slightly fictionalized version that reads like the latest techno thriller. Though, instead of saving the whole world from destruction, she is stopping the shutdown of a major corporation and the loss of tens of thousands of jobs.

E. B. Davidson was fortunate to be in the right place at the right time and drove a smartphone into the market almost a decade ahead of the iPhone.

Then came many trips to countries around the world, at first to work her own projects, but then to sort out messes that no one else could. That is when she became known as “The Fixer”.

E. B. Davidson wants everyone to enjoy her story, but especially to excite young people to follow her footsteps into real-life engineering adventures. Reading similar books in her youth launched her career and now she is paying it forward.
